

High School Tennis Coaches:

We are pleased to announce that you may now register for the 2023 Michigan Tennis Workshop!

Jorge Capestany will again host our Workshop at the DeWitt Tennis Center in Holland on Friday January 27 and Saturday January 28. This has distinct advantages beyond the fact that sessions will be presented on an actual tennis court. If you aren't already aware, Jorge is known and respected internationally, and we are thankful that he and his staff are involved again this year.

Jorge has used his contacts to help us secure some of the most-requested presenters on the speaking circuit, with three of our speakers who present nationally or even internationally: Edgar Giffenig, Dean Hollingworth and Marley Woods. All three of these speakers will conduct both an on-court and off-court presentations for us. Classroom sessions are held at the nearby Haworth Inn and Conference Center: Haworth Inn.

We have found in recent years that coaches typically find online deals for hotel rooms rather than stay at a Workshop hotel. Therefore, on the registration form, we've highlighted three hotels that have been our partners in the past, but there are several hotels within easy driving distance of the Workshop. Check out this site for more info on hotels and the Holland area in general: www.holland.org

Please be aware that the entire DeWitt Tennis facility is dedicated to our group on Friday, January 27. In addition, Friday lunch is included, but be sure to mark if you have any dietary restrictions.

The banquet room at the Haworth Inn and Conference Center will be the site for the Hall of Fame induction banquet on Friday night.

It's easy to register online by clicking the link below. Follow the prompts, or there is an internal link to download and print a PDF document to mail in. Please pass this e-mail on to tennis colleagues in your conference or area. Click to register now Michigan Tennis Workshop.

Wishing everyone a safe and happy holiday!
